

Remote work productivity measurement

- Intelligent Process Discovery tool

Building a better working world

Intelligent Process Discovery (IPD Lite) brings visibility to utilization of software tools and remote office workforce capacity

IPD LITE FEATURES:

1

Log Tracker tool installed on employee workstations to monitor daily activities.

2

Predefined working time breakdown report provided to team leaders with information on staff engagement, applications used and sites visited.

3

The information gathered can be used to make tactical interventions, support staff, and redirect work based on capacity.

NEW CHALLENGES

Remote working brings new challenges for the employee and employer

Business continuity must be maintained across virtual teams

Performance challenges need to be quickly identified and understood

KEY FACTS

- ▶ Until recently, remote office work has been an infrequent practice for most people. It has suddenly become the "new normal".
- ▶ As organizations adjust, there is a need to maintain business continuity and for team leaders to stay connected to their people and their work.
- ▶ The IPD Lite tool can be installed quickly on user workstations, and provide information back to the remote team leaders with regards utilization and capacity of their people and the software they use.

HOW WE CAN HELP

The Intelligent Process Discovery (IPD) tool is tailored to your organization's specific needs.

- As the situation is dynamic, we offer you a prompt implementation of the tool. This can be done remotely within up to 5 business days.
- The subsequent stage is to analyze and present the available data on a daily basis (under a 30-day free license).
- The tool will provide you with employee capacity data gathered using user login information.
- Performance analytics help allocate projects and tasks
- The user-friendly (Power BI) dashboard delivers data in real time
- IPD implementation increases engagement and motivation in remote work environment
- Additionally, EY can support change management process as needed, and identify future improvement opportunities

IMPLEMENTATION SCHEDULE

NO INTEGRATION NEEDED

No data access required - the tool integrates with any ERP system and gathers comprehensive data with no need for user involvement.
