Introduction

Dear Reader,

On 27 November 2019, the European Parliament adopted Directive (EU) 2019/2121 amending Directive (EU) 2017/1132 with regard to cross-border conversions, mergers and divisions. The new regulation is intended to support the common market with regard to the global mobility of companies and to create a uniform legal framework within the European Union.

As certain procedures are already available to companies in some countries for cross-border business, the regulator intends to extend the options to the other countries in the European Union as well and take into account the main provisions regarding the freedom of establishment of businesses across the European Union (Court of Justice of the EU, judgment of 25 October 2017, C-106/16). In addition, the EU intends to put in place an adequate protection mechanism for shareholders, creditors and employees of companies involved in restructuring processes.

A deadline of 31 January 2023 was set for the implementation of the directive. At the time of writing, several countries have not yet implemented it. What's more, the directive offers the individual member states a wide range of options for transposing the addressed key issues into local law. It is therefore necessary to examine in detail how companies can use the newly introduced opportunities for cross-border business operations in practice.

To help you understand the implications of the Directive, the following pages will provide you with an overview of the cross-border solutions accepted by specific EU countries.

The document has been prepared based on the information we received from our local practices in Europe. If you have further questions, please contact me or one of my colleagues in the relevant countries. You will find the key contacts for each of these jurisdictions at the back of this publication.

With kind regards,

Overview

This document provides a comparison between a number of EU jurisdictions in relation to the implementation of Directive (EU) 2019/2121 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 November 2019 (the Directive). The Directive amends Directive (EU) 2017/1132 relating to cross-border conversions, mergers and divisions.

At this point, the directive has yet to be implemented in 17 of the 22 countries we surveyed. However, 11 countries (Austria, Belgium, Czech Republic, Denmark, France, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Netherlands and Poland) have already reviewed their respective bills, so any responses affecting those jurisdictions will be treated as if the bills had already been passed and are in effect.

In six jurisdictions (Bulgaria, Croatia, Greece, Portugal, Romania and Slovakia), the draft laws transposing the Directive have not yet been published. Hence, we have not included these jurisdictions in the overview of country specifics.

This publication is not intended to be a source of comprehensive legal advice but is intended to encourage an in-depth study of the rules applicable to cross-border mergers, transformations and divisions of public companies in the relevant countries.
