Important notes

- ▶ This document provides a snapshot of the policy changes that have been announced in jurisdictions around the world in response to the COVID-19 crisis. It is designed to support conversations about policies that have been proposed or implemented in key jurisdictions.
- ▶ Policy changes across the globe are being proposed and implemented on a daily basis. This document is updated on an ongoing basis but not all entries will be up-to-date as the process moves forward. In addition, not all jurisdictions are reflected in this document.
- ▶ Find the most current version of this tracker on ey.com.
- ▶ Please consult with your EY engagement team to check for new updates and new developments.

Overview/key issues

- ▶ With the crisis evolving at different stages globally, government authorities continue to implement immigration-related measures to limit the spread of the COVID-19 pandemic and protect the health and safety of individuals in and outside of their jurisdictions.
- ▶ Measures to stem the spread of COVID-19 include the following:
 - ▶ Entry restrictions and heightened admission criteria for certain populations (including prohibitions on entry from high-risk locations)
 - ▶ Mandatory “stay-home notices” and quarantine orders for newly admitted citizens, residents and visitors (whether in state facilities, hotels or private residences)
 - ▶ Temporary suspension (and in some cases, permanent cancelation) of existing (valid) visas issued prior to COVID-19 and suspension of issuance of new visas
 - ▶ Introduction of heightened eligibility criteria and application requirements where visas are being issued (including suspension of visa waiver agreements and enhanced document requirements for new applications)
- ▶ Some governments are announcing flexible policies to prevent temporary residents who are unable to travel from becoming overstayers under immigration laws, and enabling virtual right to work.

They are currently only processing C (short-term) and D (long-term) visa applications for those whose travel is considered essential. Short-term travelers must obtain attestations from their local Belgian consulate/embassy confirming that their travel is essential. - ▶ Comments. All individuals traveling to China Mainland, including fully vaccinated travelers, travelers who never contracted COVID-19 and those who recovered from COVID-19, should consult their local Chinese Embassy or Consulate, as many Chinese Embassies and Consulates recently implemented new, stricter requirements for issuing health codes to foreign travelers in advance of their trips.

Heightened admission requirements

- ▶ Pre-travel COVID-19 testing. In general, inbound travelers (including those who are vaccinated with inactivated or non-inactivated vaccines and those who are unvaccinated) must take two COVID-19 tests with different test reagents at different laboratories no more than 48 hours prior to departure. There must be an interval of at least 24 hours between the two samplings. Travelers must test negative for all COVID-19 tests to receive a health code and gain authorization to travel to China Mainland.
- ▶ Travelers may be subject to additional tests (including lung CT, X-rays and antigen test) and rules for obtaining health codes prior to travel, depending on their COVID-19 recovery status and place of departure. Effective 22 April 2022, a "blue code" will be introduced to health codes issued to China Mainland-bound travelers located in United States. Passengers will receive a "blue code" if all their test results have been verified by a Chinese Embassy/Consulate. "Green codes" will continue to be issued but less often, and passengers holding a "green code" will still be eligible for boarding. China Mainland-bound travelers should consult the Chinese Embassy with jurisdiction over the place of departure to confirm the applicable requirements.

Vaccination requirements and considerations

- ▶ As of 8 November 2021, all non-citizens and non-immigrants traveling to the US by air are required to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provide proof of their vaccination status prior to boarding their flights to the US.
- ▶ Vaccine Mandate. Travelers must be fully vaccinated as defined in the CDC annex and will need to show proof of their vaccination status to the airline prior to boarding the plane. The CDC has stated that the vaccines approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for use, as well as those authorized for emergency use by the World Health Organization (WHO), will be accepted for entry into the US. In addition, the CDC has said it will accept mixed-dose COVID-19 vaccines from international travelers. Click here for more information on accepted vaccines.
- ▶ Unvaccinated US citizens, US nationals and lawful permanent residents (Green Card holders) are not required to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 to fly to the US.
- ▶ Unvaccinated non-US nationals (who meet the limited, allowable exceptions) must agree to comply with a number of public health precautions in the US, including but not limited to, showing proof of arranging a COVID-19 test upon arrival, arranging for self-quarantine upon arrival, and agreeing to become fully vaccinated within 60 days of arriving in the US.

Therefore, CDC will not enforce the Order. CDC continues to recommend that people wear masks in indoor public transportation settings. For more information, click here.

In addition, as of 23 December 2021 and through the end of 2022, the DOS has authorized consular officers to waive, at their discretion, the in-person interview requirement for certain temporary employment non-immigrant visa applicants who have a petition approved by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). This new authorization applies to certain temporary workers who meet certain conditions, including that they are applying for a visa in their country of nationality or residence. However, most U.S. consulates are still closed or operating at a limited capacity, pursuant to local requirements, and working through a long backlog of visa appointments. A proclamation suspending the entry into the United States of certain immigrants who present a risk to the US labor market following the outbreak of COVID-19 was rescinded on 24 February 2021. The suspension of entry for certain non-immigrants expired on 31 March 2021 and was not renewed.
- ▶ Visa extensions/renewals. Foreigners entering under the Visa Waiver Program (VWP), also known as the Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA), are not eligible to extend their stay or change status. If an emergency such as COVID-19 prevents the departure of a VWP entrant, United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) has discretion to grant a period of satisfactory departure of up to 30 days. USCIS has temporary authority to grant an additional 30-day period to VWP entrants who are unable to depart after the initial 30-day period. Satisfactory departure requests must be made by calling the USCIS Contact Center at 1-800-375-5283.
