Foreword and outlook

Vivek Soni Partner and National Leader Private Equity Services, EY India 66

February 2023 recorded US$3.7 billion in PE/VC investments, 44% lower than the investments in February 2022 and 14% lower than January 2023. While January recorded month-on-month improvement in PE/VC investments, the decline in February and the overall uncertainty make it difficult to call out any shift in PE/VC investment trends just yet.

By deal type, buyouts were the highest in terms of value in February 2023 at US$1.9 billion across three deals compared to US$1.6 billion invested across nine deals in February 2022. From a sector point of view, real estate was the top sector in February 2023, driven by one large investment announced by CDPQ and Temasek of US$1.9 billion to set up an investment platform for office properties in India.

Pure play PE/VC investments declined by 78% in terms of value and 59% in terms of volume on a y-o-y basis, making Feb 2023 the second lowest month for pure play PE/VC investments. On the contrary, investments in the infrastructure and real estate asset class recorded a 115% increase y-o-y, making Feb 2023 the highest month for real estate PE/VC investments.

Exits recorded a degrowth on a y-o-y and sequential basis of 48% and 19%, respectively. Exits via open market were the highest, accounting for 73% of all exits by value.

The deal momentum in 2023 continues to remain circumspect as PE/VC funds steer away from making large deals and deals in the pure play PE/VC segment remain elusive due to mismatch in valuation expectations. As the interest rate environment continues to tighten, the pressure on startup and growth investments in the technology and e-commerce sectors is expected to continue. Over the past two months, large investments announced in the real estate sector have helped shore up the investment tally. Yield generating assets in the real estate and infrastructure sectors that provide inflation hedged cashflows would continue to attract investments from PE funds, SWFs, and pension funds. While the fundraising continues unabated, rising global recession concerns, increasing cost of capital and mismatch in valuation expectations between sellers and investors are turning out to be major impediments in the deployment of capital.

Spotlight: environment-focused PE/VC investment trend

Spotlight: environment-focused PE/VC investment trend

- While ethical investment and the consideration of environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors hardly represent new concepts in private equity investment, the weight that such ESG considerations are given in the investment decisions and portfolio management strategies of private equity firms, has undoubtedly increased.
- In a relatively short time ESG issues have catapulted from the sidelines to the center stage of the corporate agenda.
- Climate change has emerged as the predominant environmental concern, imbued with increasing urgency as more nations and companies worldwide commit to net-zero carbon targets. This is also reflected in the investment decisions by PE/VC funds.
- ► In this section, we look at the PE/VC investment trend in environment-focused businesses. For the purpose of this analysis, we have considered investments in clean energy, mobility, and waste and water management.
- Investments in clean energy have accounted for a major share of all environment focused PE/VC investments in India over the past five years, accounting for 61% of all the investments. However, over the past couple of years, investments into electric vehicles focused ecosystem have been on the rise, receiving ~US$3 billion in PE/VC investments between 2021 and 2022.
- ESG-focused investments are expected to gain further prominence going forward for PE/VC funds, moving from compliance to creating impact and value.
- The investment opportunity is expected to grow bigger with the government's vision to achieve net-zero emissions by 2070¹, increase renewables capacity to 500 GW by 2030, meeting 50% of energy requirements from renewables, and achieve EV sales penetration of 30% of private cars, 70% of commercial cars, 40% of buses and 80% of two and three-wheelers by 2030².
