Dear Sir/Madam

Land Engineering (Scotland) Limited (In Administration) (“the Company”)

Notice to creditors of intention to declare a dividend – No claim submitted

I write to inform you that I intend to declare a first and final dividend in the Administration of the Company. I have reason to believe that you may be a creditor of the Company, but you do not yet appear to have submitted a formal claim in the Administration.

Should you wish to submit a claim, you can do so at the website below using the unique login details provided. You are required to submit a statement of claim by creditor form together with supporting documentation and a hard copy statement of claim by creditor form can be downloaded from https://www.ey.com/en_uk/ey-land-engineering-scotland-limited-administration.

Please accept my apologies if you have already submitted a formal claim. If this is the case, I would be grateful if you could upload a further copy of your statement of claim by creditor form together with supporting documentation to the website below.

As part of the adjudication process, you may be required to provide such further details or produce such documentation or other evidence as may appear to me to be necessary.

In order to pay any unsecured dividend to you as quickly and as efficiently as possible when it is declared, I should be grateful if you would also please provide bank account details to allow us to pay your dividend to you via bank transfer. This information can be uploaded by accessing the website below and using your unique login details.

Unique ID: [Please contact the Joint Administrators for your Unique ID]

Please note that some creditors have experienced issues regarding their Unique ID and hence, for clarity, please review the table below to confirm the letters of your ID, noting that the portal is case sensitive.

Letter/Number	Description
I	Upper Case i ('I')
l	Lower case L ('l')
1	Number one ('1')

Based on current estimates, the dividend is likely to be approximately 7p in the £, with a first and final dividend payment expected to be made in early May 2022. The table below provides estimated dividend amounts for certain levels of claims.

Statement of Claim Amount	Estimated Dividend
£100	£7
£1,000	£70
£10,000	£700

The estimated dividends above are provided to allow creditors to decide whether or not to submit claims in the Administration.

I would ask you to note that you are receiving this letter because you have not yet submitted a formal claim in the Administration. Should you wish to make a claim, you must submit a statement of claim by creditor form and supporting documentation using the above login details by no later than Sunday 3 April 2022 or you will be excluded from receiving a dividend payment.

Please be aware that, in order to comply with Rule 3.108 of the Insolvency (Scotland) (Company Voluntary Arrangements and Administration) Rules 2018, it is anticipated that a list of all claims accepted and rejected in the Administration will be uploaded to the aforementioned website during the week commencing 2 May 2022. A hard copy of the list can be provided on request.

Further details regarding the conduct of the Administration including the Joint Administrators' Statement of Proposals and subsequent progress reports can be found at https://www.ey.com/en_uk/ey-land-engineering-scotland-limited-administration.

If you have any queries in relation to this matter, please send an email to landengineeringcreditors@uk.ey.com.

Yours faithfully
for the Company
