Dear Sir/Madam

Land Engineering (Scotland) Limited (In Administration) (“the Company”)

Notice to creditors of intention to declare a dividend – Claim previously submitted

I write to inform you that I intend to declare a first and final dividend in the Administration of the Company and I note that you currently have a claim in the Administration.

Please be aware that all submitted claims have been loaded on to the website below for the purposes of adjudication and you can review the quantum of your claim using the unique login details provided.

If you believe that your claim is correctly stated, there is no further action required from you at this stage. You may however be required to provide such further details or produce such documentation or other evidence as may appear to me to be necessary.

If you believe that your claim is incorrectly stated, you can amend your claim and submit a revised statement of claim. A hard copy statement of claim by creditor form can be downloaded from https://www.ey.com/en_uk/ey-land-engineering-scotland-limited-administration. Please submit any required amendments by no later than Sunday 3 April 2022 or you will be excluded from receiving a dividend payment in respect of the revised claim.

In order to pay any unsecured dividend to you as quickly and as efficiently as possible when it is declared, I should be grateful if you would also please check that we hold your current address and provide bank account details to allow us to pay your dividend to you via bank transfer. This information can be uploaded by accessing the website below and using your unique login details.

1	Number one ('1')

Based on current estimates, the dividend is likely to be approximately 7p in the £, with a first and final dividend payment expected to be made in early May 2022. The table below provides estimated dividend amounts for certain levels of claims.

Statement of Claim Amount	Estimated Dividend
£100	£7
£1,000	£70
£10,000	£700

The estimated dividends above are provided to allow creditors to decide whether or not to submit claims in the Administration. Should you wish to withdraw your previously submitted claim, please advise me accordingly.

Please be aware that, in order to comply with Rule 3.108 of the Insolvency (Scotland) (Company Voluntary Arrangements and Administration) Rules 2018, it is anticipated that a list of all claims accepted and rejected in the Administration will be uploaded to the aforementioned website during the week commencing 2 May 2022. A hard copy of the list can be provided on request.

Further details regarding the conduct of the Administration including the Joint Administrators' Statement of Proposals and subsequent progress reports can be found at https://www.ey.com/en_uk/ey-land-engineering-scotland-limited-administration.

If you have any queries in relation to this matter, please send an email to landengineeringcreditors@uk.ey.com.

Yours faithfully
for the Company
